

The Great British Property Paddle 2015 Story

After 25 years in the Estate Agency industry, and being inspired by the Great British Property Cycle, Andrew Trantum, from EMS wanted to give something back.

Having had two double knee operations he has been restricted to what activities he has been able to do to keep fit. But having enjoyed kayaking and canoeing in the army and with a love of nature, kayaking seemed to be a great option. He also always had a dream to complete the Devises to Westminster race - the world's leading Canoe Marathon event. Training for the Great British Property Paddle will enable him to be able to be in a position to complete it.

On a rather long train journey one day the idea was mentioned to Jon Cooke, keen sportsman and enthusiastic supporter of Agents Giving, who spearheaded the Zoopla Property Cycle in 2012... and then everything has flourished from there.

Jon was keen to join in along with Danny Hodge who brings experience (and normality) to the event. Danny is an outdoor pursuits instructor (inclusive of being a qualified Canoe and Kayak instructor) and passionate fan of participating and helping run Iron Man, Triathlons and Tough Mudder events.
